Position: Facilitator, Training Planner

Duration: 01 May 2022 to 27 Dec 2022

Organization: WAVE Foundation under Norec International Exchange Program

Norec International Exchange Program is an exchange program that aims to transfer and exchange knowledge between two organizations from two different countries. Through mutual exchange, facilitators think more significantly, live sustainably, and build responsible local communities. As a Facilitator and Training Planner, I develop high-quality written materials, such as project operation guidelines, research papers, facilitation guidelines for youth leaders, etc. And work with rural area youth and farmers. I represent international networks and project management, including youth collaboration, climate action in communities, digital intervention, and many more. To address climate change and mobilize climate action across Bangladesh, this project has expanded my experiences, including developing skills to build resilient communities alongside young people.

Position: Facilitator, Training planner

Duration: 20 June 2020 to 25 April 2022

Organization: British Council Bangladesh

I joined the 'Leadership for Advancing Development in Bangladesh (LEAD Bangladesh)' as a Facilitator. I managed a team of eight volunteers and led the empower young people campaign. I, along with my teammates, organized 5 Virtual workshops, 15 offline workshops, and several webinars and conducted virtual workshops with my team and empowered them on behalf of young people. I trained 450 youths as leaders in their communities to identify innovative, sustainable solutions to local and global challenges. The LEAD Bangladesh project focuses on increasing youth engagement, voice, agency, and participation in policy development in Bangladesh and developing future change-makers with a global perspective. Also, I wrote an interactive training report on the reporting response as part of the campaign.
